

"Communicate Your Message on the World Wide Web"

Define your Website purpose, target audience and style!

Will your Website be a virtual business card, public service, knowledge base, customer service center, virtual marketplace or to attract potential clients?

Knowing what you want or need in a Website will keep you focused!

Will you educate, entertain, provide unique help or information to others, or a combination of these?

As you plan your Website remember each webpage should have an objective, but within the constraints of the Website's purpose!

Another vitally important question is, "Who should create my Website?"

It is a must that your designer understands you and your business and mission of your Website. The Website must effectively communicate you and your uniqueness to your Internet audience.
