

Privacy Policy

DataCorp is committed to protecting your privacy. You can visit most pages on our sites without giving us any information about yourself, however on occasion we do need information about you in order to provide services that you request. Any information you supply to us for this purpose will never knowingly be disclosed to third parties or sold to independent marketing firms.

Use of personal information

We use your personal information for the following purposes:

- * To deliver services, such as software or software upgrades, which you request or purchase.
- * To alert you to product upgrades, special offers, updated information and other new services from DataCorp, if you so request.
- * To allow you access to limited-entry areas of our site, as appropriate.

Privacy Policy

DataCorp will protect the privacy of its visitors. We do not recognize you or your email automatically. We will collect e-mail addresses of those who post messages and feedback, as well as those who communicate with us via e-mail.

The information collected is used to address the client inquiry, update clients and improve Website content. Your information is not shared with other organizations for any reason. Under no circumstances will DataCorp willfully or knowingly divulge, sell, trade or barter any personal information provided on this Website to a third party.

COPPA Statement

In accordance with the Children's On-line Privacy Act, all persons under the age of 13 must have permission from their legal guardian before placing name, e-mail address and/or private information anywhere on this web site.
